THEOLOGY, PHILOSOPHY AND RELIGION

Draft Specification

For teaching from September 2021 onwards

For examinations from November 2022 onwards

ISEB CORE AIMS

Pupils who have pursued a course of study based on CE specifications and assessments will:

- Be equipped not only for the next stage of their education, but for life-long learning based on a secure foundation of subject knowledge, concepts and skills and be able to apply what they know to new situations.
- Be enthusiastic learners who are open to new ideas and experiences, curious, questioning and keen to experiment.

They will:

- Enjoy reading and be able to articulate clearly orally and in writing.
- Have the confidence to think, weigh up evidence and make up their own minds, and the resilience to learn from their mistakes.
- Have the skills to work independently and collaboratively.
- Understand how subjects connect with each other.
- Demonstrate cultural and environmental awareness and empathy, developing an understanding of their place in the world.

INTRODUCTION

The study of Theology, Philosophy and Religion (TPR) offers pupils of any religion or none, a challenging and exciting means to evaluate responses to many of life's biggest and basic questions: why is the world here? what is our purpose in it? why is there suffering and evil? what does it mean to be morally good? does God exist? what does it mean to worship God? why are people devoted to different religions? why does the environment matter? and so on.

The TPR course offers exceptional choice with sixteen different topics within three sections (theology, philosophy and religion) meaning there is great flexibility for teachers and pupils alike; schools can tailor and design a course to suit the interests and competences of teachers and pupils, whilst fitting it to any time constraints.

Above all, the skills offered by TPR are especially significant in contemporary plural 21st Century societies, enabling pupils to be independent and enthusiastic learners, engaging in a subject which has direct relevance to their lives. The focus on evaluating and debating issues and responses opens up tremendous learning opportunities. The different topics are catalysts for independent and collaborative learning, allowing pupils to think critically and form their own ideas as well as developing learning attitudes for life. TPR teaches pupils to understand and respect values and beliefs which may not be their own, to evaluate them precisely and carefully and learn to reflect on their ideas and present them clearly and articulately.

AIMS

The specification aims at giving candidates the opportunity to:

- develop skills relevant to the study of theology, philosophy and religion;
- think, weigh up evidence and evaluate theological, philosophical and religious responses to moral issues;
- identify, investigate and respond to fundamental questions of life raised by religion, philosophy and human experience, including questions about the meaning and purpose of life;
- develop theological skills through the critical study of foundational biblical texts of the Judeo-Christian tradition;
- develop philosophical skills to reason, argue and evaluate claims made by religious and non-religious belief systems;
- acquire knowledge and develop understanding of the beliefs, values and traditions of one or more religion(s);
- consider and evaluate the influence of the beliefs, values and traditions associated with one or more religion(s).

ASSESSMENT OBJECTIVES

Candidates must demonstrate their ability to:

A01	recall, select, organise, summarise and deploy knowledge of the syllabus content, including the content and distinctive concepts of theology, philosophy and religion and the specialist vocabulary according to each;
A02	describe, analyse and explain the relevance and application of theological, philosophical and religious ideas and practices and the issues arising from the study of each area;
A03	evaluate different responses to theological, philosophical and religious issues; including a personal response, using relevant evidence and argument, and appropriate language and terminology.

Although the assessment objectives are expressed separately, they are not wholly discrete.

SCHEME OF ASSESSMENT

The examination will be 60 minutes.

Common Entrance TPR at 13+		Marks	60 minutes
Section 1	Theology	20	30 minutes
Section 2	Philosophy	20	30 minutes
Section 3	Religion	20	30 minutes

Candidates will be required to demonstrate knowledge and understanding, and the ability to evaluate alternative points of view.

Each Section will contain four questions. There will be two questions per Topic in each Section. Each question will be subdivided into three parts (a-c), to test knowledge, understanding and evaluation.

Candidates must answer one question from any two of the three Sections.

Candidates may restrict their study to either Topic 1 or Topic 2 in each Section if they wish (but this will reduce their choice of questions in the examination).

Roman Catholic schools taking part F of Section 3 (Roman Catholic Christianity) must combine it with Section 1 - Theology.

FORMAT AND TEACHING STRATEGY

Format of the examination and choice of sections

Common Entrance TPR at 13+		Marks	60 minutes
Section 1	Theology	20	30 minutes
Section 2	Philosophy	20	30 minutes
Section 3	Religion	20	30 minutes

Candidates answer one question from any two sections. As the examination is 60 minutes long, this gives candidates 30 minutes to plan and write carefully considered answers.

Teachers may choose which two sections to prepare their candidates for, depending on the type of course they wish to develop. Courses may comprise the following combinations:

- Theology and philosophy (sections 1 and 2)
- Theology and religion (sections 1 and 3)
- Philosophy and religion (sections 2 and 3)

There is no coursework although, by arrangement with senior schools, junior schools may wish to send on to senior schools coursework completed to supplement the examination.

Teaching strategy

Each of the three sections is divided into two topics. Although it is intended that both topics should be taught, in some cases a teacher may decide to focus on one of the two topics. As the examination paper provides two questions per topic area, candidates will still have a choice of questions, but the choice will be reduced.

Some teachers may decide to cover two topics but from different religions in Section 3. This has the advantage of covering a wider range of religious traditions but without requiring more teaching time.

The topics are arranged so that those choosing only to cover the first topic area in each section focus on more abstract ideas, whereas the second topic area deals with human and practical issues.

Common Entrance TPR at 13+

	Section 1: Theology	Section 2: Philosophy	Section 3: Religion
Topic 1	God's Relationship with the World	Great Thinkers and Their Ideas	Beliefs and Teachings
Topic 2	Human Responses to God	Ethics	Practices and Ceremonies

SCHOLARSHIP (CASE)

The Common Academic Scholarship Examination (CASE) is based on the TPR. Candidates are expected to demonstrate wider knowledge, understanding and evaluative skills of either syllabus than candidates for Common Entrance.

The paper is 60 minutes in length and will consist of two sections, with six questions in Section 1 and nine questions in Section 2. Candidates must answer one question from Section 1 and one question from Section 2.

Section 1: General (25 marks)

These questions will explore general theological and philosophical issues covered in the TPR syllabus. Questions will require an essay-style response.

Six questions will be set; candidates must answer one question.

All questions in Section 1 require an essay response to a single question.

Section 2: Theology and Religion (25 marks)

Nine structured questions will be set covering Sections 1 and 3 of the TPR syllabus (Theology and Religion). Candidates must answer one question.

Each question in Section 2 comprises three parts: part (a) knowledge; part (b) understanding and interpretation; part (c) evaluation and assessment.

Common Academic Scholarship		Marks	60 minutes
Section 1	General	25	30 minutes
Section 2	Theology & Religion	25	30 minutes

SUBJECT CONTENT

SECTION 1: THEOLOGY

The theological element of the TPR syllabus develops theological interpretation of some of the foundational stories of the Old and New Testaments through two topic areas: Topic 1 God's Relationship with the World; Topic 2 Human Responses to God. Candidates should have a critical understanding of the ideas studied.

Candidates may study Topic 1 or Topic 2 or both Topics. Two questions will be set on Topic 1 and two questions on Topic 2. Candidates who choose Section 1 answer one question from either Topic 1 or Topic 2.

Selected texts

The theology of the Divine Initiative selected texts are listed on the next two pages. Candidates are expected to know and understand the selected texts and have the necessary skills to evaluate the role of the biblical material in relation to the theological themes listed.

Suggested background texts and texts for extension work are listed in Appendix V.

SECTION 1: THEOLOGY

THEOLOGY

Topic 1: God's Relationship with the World

SECTION 2: PHILOSOPHY

The philosophical element of the TPR syllabus develops philosophical thinking through the study of two topic areas:

Topic 1: Great Thinkers and Their Ideas;

Topic 2: Ethics.

Candidates should have a critical understanding of the ideas studied. Candidates may study Topic 1 or Topic 2 or both Topics. Two questions will be set on Topic 1 and two questions on Topic 2. Candidates who choose Section 2 answer one question from either Topic 1 or Topic 2.

Topic 1: Great Thinkers and Their Ideas

The Great Thinkers and Their Ideas topic covers the following philosophical ideas:

- what is a persuasive argument?
- what is real and what is illusion?
- can God's existence be proved?
- do the ends justify the means?
- what is happiness?
- what is justice?
- is civil disobedience justified?

Topic 2: Ethics

The Ethics topic covers the following philosophical questions:

- whether there is existence after death
- whether the use of war is justified
- what is punishment for?
- what are the limits of freedoms?
- who are the marginalised and how should they be treated?
- are humans morally responsible for their environment?

Candidates may study the following topics from any religious tradition or none. They will be expected to know and understand the philosophical arguments for and against each topic.

ASSESSMENT CRITERIA

It is suggested that questions be marked according to the following levels of response:

A01: (a) Knowledge

Level	Mark	Level Descriptor
6	6	Gives a very good answer: a coherent and precise description; an incisive summary of the significant details; very good command of English.
5	5	Gives a good answer: a precise description summarising significant details; a high level of knowledge and understanding.
4	4	Gives a satisfactory answer: a description showing more precise knowledge and understanding.
3	3	Gives a broadly satisfactory answer: a description presented in a structured way but lacking precision and some knowledge; moderate use of English.
2	2	Gives a basic answer: limited knowledge of a relevant idea presented in a structured way.
1	1	Gives a very poor answer: an isolated example of a simple piece of relevant information; poor use of English.

A02: (b) Understanding

Level	Mark	Level Descriptor
6	6	Gives a very good answer: a coherent and comprehensive explanation of several ideas (with sound reference to background, history, other relevant passages etc.); very good command of English.
5	5	Gives a good answer: a detailed explanation of several ideas with a good level of knowledge and understanding.
4	4	Gives a satisfactory answer: an explanation of more than one idea presented with some detail and understanding.
3	3	Gives a broadly satisfactory answer: an explanation presented in a structured way but lacking detail and some knowledge; moderate use of English.
2	2	Gives a basic answer: a limited understanding of a relevant idea.
1	1	Gives a very poor answer: an isolated example of a simple piece of relevant information; poor use of English.

A03: (c) Evaluation

Level	Mark	Level Descriptor
8	8	Gives an excellent answer: excellent structure and balanced answer; very good use of language; focuses on the question; well-chosen examples to illustrate the points being made; another point of view considered, supported by very clear reasoning.
7	7	Gives a very good answer: very good structure; ideas developed in a balanced way; well-chosen and relevant examples; another point of view considered, supported by clear reasons.
6	6	Gives a good answer: good, clear structure and balanced answer; well-chosen examples with a sound grasp of their meaning; sound assessment of ideas; another point of view considered, supported by good reasons.
5	5	Gives a satisfactory answer: reasonably clear structure and balanced answer; some examples and sound explanation; reasonable expression; one or two relevant points made; another point of view considered, supported by reasons.
4	4	Gives a broadly satisfactory answer: some structure or organisation of ideas; lack of clear reasoning; some relevant points; unbalanced; limited examples.
3	3	Gives a basic answer: a viewpoint is expressed with minimum justification; an example given; limited relevance.
2	2	Gives a poor answer: no essay structure; a very brief answer; a statement with little reasoning; very little reference to the question; poor or irrelevant examples; makes little sense.
1	1	Gives a very weak answer: almost no content; no reasoning; almost no reference to the question; makes very little sense.

APPENDIX III

SCHOLARSHIP ASSESSMENT CRITERIA

Section 1: General (25 marks)

Level	Mark	Level Descriptor
5	21-25	Gives an excellent answer: excellent structure and balanced answer; sharp reasoning; very good use of language; focuses on the question; well-chosen examples to illustrate the points being made; shows intellectual flair/spark. Clear award standard.
4	16-20	Gives a very good answer: very good structure; ideas developed in a balanced way; insightful reasons/evaluation; well-chosen and relevant examples. Worthy of consideration for an award.
3	11-15	Gives a good answer: good, clear structure and balanced answer; well-chosen examples with a sound grasp of their meaning; sound assessment of ideas with good reasons. Good CE equivalent
2	6-10	Gives a competent answer: reasonably clear structure and balanced answer; some examples and sound explanation; reasonable expression; one or two relevant points made with reasons. Sound CE equivalent.
1	1-5	Gives a basic answer: some structure or organisation of the ideas; lack of clear reasoning; some relevant points; unbalanced; limited examples.
